Participants who opt into swim wave one typically do so to reduce the number of competitors in front of them and improve their overall standing OR give themselves the maximum amount of time to finish the race. Per USA Triathlon rules, those who opt into swim wave one lose age/gender ranking and awards eligibility and are only eligible for overall awards.*

Any relay swimmers that are also competing as individuals must start in their age/gender group.*

Participants will be called into the start chutes by wave assignment.
Once in the chute, they will start in "time trial" format, individually one-at-a-time on the beach on the race director's signal.
Your race time will start when you cross the start line timing mat.
